SUMMARY

I am a recent graduate of the University of Education, Lahore with a BS in Information Technology. My studies focused on computer science and information technology, and I have a strong interest in programming and web development. My Capstone project was a research-based project that aimed to detect the helpfulness of reviews. I also worked as a MERN Stack Apprentice at Maaz Informatics for two months as part of the PSEB Apprenticeship program for IT Graduates. I am now seeking opportunities to enhance my skills and gain more experience in the web development industry.
